Work with the children to allocate characters and prepare a short performance. Discuss the stage directions in advance and make sure the children understand how to follow the script.

Mommy: Let's play a game.

Pom Pom: Yes! I love playing games.

(Pom Pom, his mommy, and his baby brother play a board game.)

Pom Pom: Six . . . seven . . . eight . . . Yes! I'm the winner!

Pom Pom: I like being the winner.

Narrator: They had some lunch, and Pom Pom finished first. He was the winner.

Narrator: Then, they wanted to go outside, and Pom Pom got his hat and scarf very fast. He was the winner again!

Narrator: They went to the library, and Pom Pom read his book very quickly.

Pom Pom: I finished first!

People in library:

Be quiet!

Narrator:

They went to the park, and Pom Pom went down the slide first.

Pom Pom:

I'm the winner again!

Rocco, Scout,
Buddy,
and Baxter:

Do you want to ride scooters with us?

Pom Pom:

Yes, please. I'm very fast today. You can't catch me!

(The friends race off on scooters. Pom Pom is not the fastest.)

Pom Pom:

Oh. My friends are very fast, too. I'm not the first.

Rocco:

Let's play on the swings.

Pom Pom:

OK. I can go very high!

(The friends go very high on the swings.)

Pom Pom:

Oh. They are going very high, too. I'm not the winner.

Scout:

Let's catch a ball.

Pom Pom:

Yes. I'm good at catching a ball!

Narrator: Again, Pom Pom was not the winner.

Pom Pom: I don't want to play with you now.

Narrator: Now, Pom Pom was not with his friends. He was the winner again! He went running, and he won.

Narrator: He danced, and he won at that, too.

Narrator: He was the winner, but Pom Pom was not happy. Something was not right.

Scout: Are you OK, Pom Pom?

Pom Pom: No. I don't like being the winner with no friends.

Scout: Then come and play with us!

Rocco, Scout,
Buddy,
and Baxter: We can play together. We can ALL be winners!
